K9TrooperSir PhoenixxK9TrooperThey had a picture of some of us taking turns with the razor. This chick got a hold of the picture and all of us in the shots got $250 disorderly conduct tickets. It was worth it.

Lol... That stunt would have been perfect if you wouldn't have been stupid enough to give her the evidence she needed to give you that $250 fine. :rolleyes:

I didn't. Someone else took the pictures. Somehow she got them.

Remind him it isn't smart to take pictures of the person who did the crime, unless you want to get caught. Take before/after pictures of her hair being cut (should have taken pictures of her topless before you started, pass them around College, and provide links to everyone here of course).
