Of course those that like to cheat play in non-Renguard servers, it's the only place they can play.

Take yourself over to FunMaps and play a couple games over there, the place is a magnet for FR users! I don't know why they all go there, OH! wait, silly me, they don't have Renguard. :rolleyes: Your right; not everyone cheats, BUT just say your playing a great game, your really enjoying it and winning and then someone joins enemy team and has FR and wins it for them before anyone can figure out how to ban their complicated names. Renguard simply ensures that the: enjoyment feeling is not stolen. If you don't cheat then there is absolutely now worries for you

Offering someone to check your computer proves nothing, cheats can be stored on CD-ROM or DVD.

Though many of us thought Renguard would kill Renegade, were completly wrong...even me! It's the cheaters killing it and now it's time to kill the cheaters! So you could say Renegade is being Reborn.....yay

I have absolutely no remorse, and I'm sure Crimson and all the individuals that were involved with making Renguard have no remorse either about loosing, say: 10,000 cheaters to ensure 50,000+ players can play a FUN GAME, because that's what's it's all about!!!!
