there is a parallel thought pattern in the bashing.

Which means what? That we have a similar thought pattern towards Reborn? What's the part where you connect that to... oh I dunno... anything?

You know what that log shows? It shows Renardin conducting himself in an adult manner, Ack giggling like a little girl, and you going off about absolutely nothing important at all.

If by "Renardin conducting himself in an adult manner", you mean "Defends theft of intellectual property by claming 'legality' by Electronic Arts". Then yes, I'd say he quite efficiently conducted himself in an adult manner.

I have no argument about Ack giggling like a schoolgirl. That frightens me too.

Then you're posting... because... what? Just in the mood to flame someone who actually has a strong opinion about something?

Quote:

Renardin wins, and you come off as an ass.

- 1.) Sure, he wins. That's why they're changing the logo as we speak.
- 2.) An ass? Ok, I want you to go take a popular CD, then burn a copy, and claim that you were the one who did all the lyrics, singing, etc. Then tell me who looks like an ass.

If you mean to call me an asshole, then you're only stating the obvious. I have no shame in being one of the loudest sons of bitches in the C&C community. Get used to it, or move along.

Your non-descript attempts to slough these quotes off are pathetic, and I disregard them as such.

Sucks when I hand your ass over to you on a silver platter with all the trimmings, doesn't it?

Quote:

It's clearly evident you both are looking for one another's approval.

Sure, because I'd die if I wasn't given Ack's approval in something. It makes my world go around.

Dude, you lose. Go home. Or eat some tuna. I hear that fish is good for the brain.
