JavaxcxMeh, I don't doubt the poll. I happen to know it's true (at least from a general consensus) seeing how I deal with teenagers who are just beginning to understand politics nearly on a daily basis.

Stop trying to pass it off as it is ok. Because it isn't. they have had to have gotten this from someone. Maybe their parents or the tv that they watch? they don't just get an idea in their head. And American kids don't think countries are evil. they would never say that about Canada.
