hydra1945Oh, and the fact he's such a hardcore liberal should be enough evidence he's only fourteen.

Um...WTF? I think you must be tragically mistaking me with someone else, for I do not exactly consider myself an incredibly hardcore liberal. Also, I don't think my political viewpoint will switch around in two years. Political viewpoints switching as they changing refers to people under 30 generally being more liberal than their later selves, not a gigantic switch between 14 and 16.
