I dont see why it creates so much bother anyway. We just type "A-C-K" (take away the hyphons) as an acronym, instead of typing out his whole nickname. I think of it as being helpful since it saves us trouble of typing out his whole name.

It's also funny reading posts about Aircraftkiller that are written completely in capital letters, and everytime "A-C-K" (again, take away the hyphons) is written, it is in lower case letters. Kind of stupid really...
