Hang on..

So when you scroll down a thread, and reach a post by Aircraftkiller.. your scroll bar just stops working till it knows you've read the post? And not only that; you can't leave the thread, hit the close button, or do anything to remove Aircraftkiller's post from your screen except clicking "post a reply" and submitting some ad hominem his way? Shit..

Consider selling your computer to a large company. They'll be very interested to see what the hell is giving it that much intelligence.
