

---

Subject: Time Travel and other stuff.

Posted by mrpirate on Sun, 25 Jul 2004 06:41:36 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

As an example:

Electrons moving around in orbitals in an atom do not follow the Newtonian laws of physics that we apply to larger objects. Their position can only be predicted using probability.

---