It looks good... Except for the fact that model and or texture is made backwards, the ejection port and that part just above the trigger/grip (cocking lever?) are on the wrong side. The grip shouldn't have the black band on the top of it, it's also not shaped right. The trigger guard, and the part of the grip that's connected to it, and subsequently the trigger are too short.

The only thing that looks any better then our AK-47 is the wood texture.
