Simply NO.

"SITE WILL BE BACK IN 1 WEEK WHILE WAITING, USE OUR TEMPORARY FORUMS

you need to sign up if you havent yet

we'll update this a bit also when bothered

We are in need of dounfing, please donate even few bucks and it helps"

- 1 Get your forums working properly, don't want to use some temporary thing.
2. We don't need to sign up, you just want us to.
3. When your bothered you will update it, just update whenever possible. . .
4. "dounfing" WTF is that word supposed to be? Why do people need to donate to your little clan site, it's just a clan, use a free server or something you don't need any money if it's just a clan, better yet set up your own little webserver at your house and then there won't be any ads. <http://www.debian.com> use that . . . pretty self explanatory. . . just need an old computer, about 6 hours, and an internet connection. You don't see everyone in these forums that has a site asking for donations now do you? Sorry to be harsh, but it's the plain and simple truth.
