Anyways, this has gone WAY off topic, yes I contributed, but I'm also ending it.

Renardin, feel free to start a new topic about this Reborn update if you feel you need to.

Oh, and my final word on Reborn? It sucks now, yes. It can't really be argued otherwise. But it can be saved if people get their acts together and work on the bugs. Textures are turning out better than they were, but it's all the bugs that people apparently seem to dislike that most. Well, that and the denial of their existence, but that can be changed easily.
