BlazerDoitleWow! I'd pay like 30$ the set of both. Looking to go into the buissness? I would love to have those signs around my house. Even though those other people who live here probably wouldn't...

LOL...it's probably more than $30 worth of wood. Add to that the time to carefully cut it out, HOURS of sanding (who knows how many blisters he got), and professional painting. I would say these babies are worth a few hundred bucks each.

Surprised? Don't be.

- 1) Cannot be bought or found anywhere
- 2) Skillfully crafted
- 3) MANY hours of labor in creation
- 4) Flawless end result and finish
= valuable

Hmmm JeffLee67 could have a carrer idea here...

Do what your good at and your definetly good at woodwork.
