I called ATI on the phone they said they never heard of the developer registered program and a 40% discount, they said they ship cards out to most developers for free :rolleyes: same for review sites.
Regardless the ATI page isn't up to date, but the also have an official FIRST PARTY x800 pro VIVO and these 3rd party x800 pro vivos are based of the offcial core:

Thats the retail x800 pro VIVO from sapphire, Thier are retail models availible for gigabyte, power color, club3d and more.

btw the gigabyte x800 pro vivo ships with 16 pipes unlocked running at xt speeds. Looks like the manufacturer "pre-hacked" it for you :rolleyes:
