Aircraftkiller So what, I never said I wanted to convey a professional attitude.

What?! Really!?

Jesus Christ! I thought you were trying to come off as professional! You had me fooled, I'll give you that. I've always thought that childishly mentioning "Reborn Sucks" in every sentence you wrote gave you the professional edge that put you above everyone else. But alas, it is all a sham. One...big...homosexual...sailor moon loving....sham.

And how depressing it is that you are so cut off from mainstream society that you don't know any slang or English idioms. You poor soul, you think that "sad" means "melancholy" and didn't realize it meant "pathetic". You must be so pale and white, what with the light of day never touching you. You will be in my prayers.
