Last night on mlRC I said I was too tired to look up lots of links to support 100,000 disenfranchised voters... Damn that Katherine Harris.

First, a history. Florida hasn't been plagued by voter disenfranchisement simply in the 2000 election....

Looks like those 94,000 are still without a vote, because if they got one, Jeb Bush would lose to another candidate. And we can't have that, now, can we?

More later, if necessary.
