I never said it isn't illegal if you get caught.

If we were speeding and ever cop in the world knew about and they did nothing then there isn't a problem.

When the entire UN knows we are doing something and they don't do anything there is no problem.

And yes you are interpreting the law.

The only part you can eve refute in any resolution is

"Reaffirming the commitment of all Member States to the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iraq, Kuwait, and the neighboring States,

We did not violated the territorial integrity.

Quote:sovereignty-
Complete independence and self-government.
A territory existing as an independent state.

As of now they are completely independent and they have always been a territory existing as an independent state.

So that pretty much gets thrown out the window.
