Got any quality pictures? Post em' here!

Me first...

Taken with my newest Sony digital camera, very handy.

It was a rainy day, I thought it would be perfect to take some pictures, most of em' were blurry, but some of them were actually really nice, I'm probably going to edit this one since the current background kind of... Sucks...

That was in my backyard, by the way.

Here's another one, it was taken this summer in a plane in direction of Florida, probably over the Great Lakes...

I just loved the scenary, what sucked tho, is just had access to our old digital camera... Which means: low quality pictures.
