Subject: Game slowdown--is it my performance settings?

Hi:

For curiosity's sake, I tried setting my performance levels to high. Now, although it's cool to see snow and dust clouds at my feet, I've noticed my system get seriously constipated during ftank rushes. Is that a graphics issue (implying that I should go back to my medium performance setting) or is it simply a mess caused by too many ftanks and too much rendered flame in one screen? Either way, I know I'm going to reduce my settings.

BTW, I have a 1.4 ghz Athlon PC with 256 MB of DDRAM (or whatever it is that isn't pokey SDRAM). My video card is an NVIDIA GF2 MX 400 (64MB), I think. I'm not at home, so I have to go on memory here...
