So I'm guessing same goes with militaries? Hmm...with what you just said, America must be a baby-happy-go-luck military because they randomly recruit via mail.

Recruiting is done by everyone, good and bad clans alike. How else are you going to find the best of the best in the community? You're not going to know all the best players in Renegade instantly, so recruiting is a way to bring in all the talent.

On the other hand, recruiting without tryouts is a sign of a lame clan.
