AircraftkillerWhy is that your standardized answer for everything? If you don't like it, "they need to get a life." Maybe you need to shut the hell up and get a life instead, and then while you're out there finding a new life to live you can try and find a decent fucking insult that hasn't been vomited all over the Internet for the last 10 years.

Obiously, if you ddos someone over something that happened over that net you felt pissed about... I don't know.. now that i can't use 'no life' because it has been used for the past 10 years all over the internet..

Wow, he pissed me off on irc argg i look like a loser. No, I'll ddos him (yay i feel all better now, i have the power. I am all powerful. I want a cookie)
