Aircraftkiller And you whine like a three year old and throw temper tantrums when you don't get your way, what's your point retard?

Stop using "grow up" as if it's actually insulting. I am probably older than you are and are thus "grown up" compared to you, and more importantly you should also stop using your subjective view of maturity as a basis to tell anyone to grow up when your maturity views are not what everyone subscribes to.

I'm older than both of you and this is getting old.

Renardin, if you want to actually start a dev studio fine, but you better learn how to take criticism if and when your products don't work like they should. You don't fire your beta team because they leak stuff and don't kiss your ass and try to help make your product better by pointing out bugs. You don't need to release again until you get all your issues, both software and content worked out.

AircraftKiller, Reborn is a mess. The one time I downloaded their installer it crashed Windows to the point where I had to format and reinstall. That tells me they are paper tigers who are all show and no go. You don't have to reiterate over and over again. I have a few beefs about RenAlert too, but their mainly balance related and hopefully we can discuss them like adults later.

In the meantime, ACT YOUR GODDAMN AGES, NOT YOUR FING SHOE SIZE!

Everybody else, please forgive my language.
