SuperFlyingEngiPlanned on, but had no capacity to, get WMDs.

Especially with the whole world looking over his shoulder

Especially with the UN sanctions

Saddam didn't have WMDs and wasn't about to have them any time soon. If he started to get WMDs, the world would know. The WMD case for war is now completely unjustified.

Well no.

No one was looking over his shoulder.

The UN sanctions were set to run out.

He wanted them ASAP and could have had them in a matter of months. They had the plans for Nuclear weapons. they could easily get the parts. Did that article I post mean nothing to you?
