You guys haven't been right, so it's not as if I'm ignoring you. You're just wrong... Whenever you back up a point, it's a lot of bullshit conjecture. I call you on it and you insist you're right, then never look at the source of what you're complaining about.

As for Louis Castle, this happened before WS folded. Christ Retardin, I give you a little bit of credit for having some intelligence and you can't figure out I got all of my fucking assets from WS BEFORE they closed down, back when Castle and Sperry still controlled the subsidiary called Westwood Studios. :rolleyes:
