louisicedog90That sounds pretty cool, as long as it's not like Black-Cell's turret buying script where no matter how much one player pays, it won't build unless 10 different people do it.

it doesn't matter how many people do it so long as you put in enough money.

This is right, I've done it by myself (I often have tons of money) before and it worked just fine. Although, I've had the "payment" object disappear on me before, and no base defensive system appear.
