Not only that! Austria, The Netherlands and France, had that kind of a political Party too... Think of Jörg Heider, le pain (can't remember the correct spelling of that French guy anymore) and Pim Fortuyn (who got shot on 6th may 2002).. if you call these poeple communistic, then you've born in the wrong side of the town.

Also, Pim Fortuyn USED to be a Communist when he was a "young one".

Actually, Pim Fortuyn was different then le pain and Jörg heider... Pim Fortuyn was a bit political left (european Version) Compared to le pain and Jörg Heider.
