Im trying to be Nice but and to the point but ok here i go and argue this all you want you have a problem your so worryed people will like the reborn teams work better than your team you have to post loads of spam just so you can make sure you get some attention its a childish thing to do and most other forums would have baned you already add in the fact its not enough for you to post on a single thread you have to post on muliple threads it truely is a pathitic thing.
