It's like, the community would have been a better place without ack. All the other modders may have made more mods and maps without ack's constant criticism. Ack's maps are all pretty much crap, plain and simple. He goes for quantity over quality. I mean look at glacier. The fact is, I think some of these other modders would have developed their skills and done bigger and greater things if they hadn't felt threatened by Ack. He thinks he's the supreme renegade map maker. Well I tell ya what ack, if that's your goal in life than congratu-f*cking-lations. You've put out more sh!tty maps than all other modders combined. Your grand prize: you can suck on my nuts.
