As for me, I have started using Renguard recently after getting my hands on my PC again (and C&C: Renegade) after a year away. It seems to be very stable, but the problem is I still use modem (56kbps) and so most of the time when I connect to RenGuard-protected server, I got disconnected. Damn the slow internet connection in Thailand. I intend to switch to some faster connection in a year or two and I'm sure Renegade will still be alive and kicking by then. Meanwhile, I only occasionally play RGED servers; most of the time I play on non-protected and... well, I only spotted very few cheaters. I never cheat, nor do I intend to. But there ARE cheaters out there.

Personally, I am strongly for widespread use of RG and agree that more people should use it, and when more people use it, more servers use it and cheaters are isolated in their world, playing with fellow cheaters.

Chronojam's idea is actually good, much like legal hackers which test a company's defense against evil hackers. We can ask people who know exploits in RG to come in and help "plug the hole" for little reward, can't we?
