

---

Subject: The Cold...

Posted by warranto on Thu, 02 Dec 2004 15:35:46 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

God bless the mountains. Living in Calgary, it can get quite cold (not as cold as winter-peg mind you, but still cold). However, we get a wonderful natura occurrence called a chinook. This can raise the temperature in the middle of a cold snap (-20C, -30C with wind chill, for an example) to plus temperatures(+2C, + 10C for example). Middle of winter, snow still on the gound (though in the middle of melting), and people are out in their shorts playing tennis, soccer, whatever.

---