Ok, I would first like to say I was in catholic school from kindergarten to the 4th grade so your statement is utterly false. I do regret my parents putting me through that since I learned nothing but fairy tales and false idols.

I would also like to say that this is a political/hot issues section and this is not mainly dedicated to video games so we are free to argue away about how you are indeed moronic for believing in false hopes. I have also stated that my statement is based on the general Catholics so you can stuff it.

I also find it funny that you tell me what I am and what I know when you don't know @#%^ about me. I await your dumba$$ statement so I can make a mockery of you.
