It's a bit of a cheat. The user can see all what the black stuff hides, and so can see a mobius/PIC/expensive infantry to snipe when before he would have looked in another direction. Getting rid of the green alone isn't really a cheat, as you get no advantage but it looks nicer. I consider it less of cheat as glowing beacons, c4, and character skins though. So many people seem to use Clearscope though, so if it was in a CBP so everyone could have it, I doubt I'd mind.
