well the only way i could think of to change voice commands is that you get a program called "RenegadeEx" and look in the always.dat in your data folder in the renegade folder. They should have a special name or you can play them to find out. Next just say that the name for the voice is "Voice1.wav" then delete that file and make a file with the voice you want and put it in the always.dat and name it voice1 get me?
