

---

Subject: Well, its time for that winter break thingy.
Posted by warranto on Tue, 07 Dec 2004 01:36:49 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

As people may know it is now considered to be "bad" to say "Merry Christmas", as Christmas deals with the Catholic religion, and people are offended by that. So in the spirit of this winter break thingy that can no longer be named, lets try to think up a few songs to play, shall we?

Rules:

1. The songs can have nothing to do with having a basis in the Christian religion. This means: God, Christmas, Santa (SAINT nick), and anything else I forgot to mention.
  2. Using a song from any other Religion is fine, it's just the Christian Religion that is offensive.
-