The forum has been hacked today.

We have the IP, the name and the internet provider of the hacker. He can wait some surprises from us soon.

For the community:

We are lucky : I did a complete back up of the website yesterday and I also saved the database. So don't worry, all we be back and it will be safer.

I don't know if I have time to do that stuff tonight, but I will do it as soon as possible.
