My definition of an oldbie is someone with extensive experience, so those people who were in demo or people who had the game since it was released would be in my opinion an oldbie. Although I also want a beta tester only match.

Also, I've beta tested about 30+ games, and believe me they don't come remotely near to the beta experience with Renegade. Those who didn't participate in the Renegade beta test won't know what us beta testers went through. That's why most of the beta testers in Renegade go on about it so much - it was unique.

I'll quite happily organise more matches so others can play, don't worry I won't limit the fun. So you 'middlebies' and whoever else wants to play should get to.
