There is an easier way than that, just click the button that has the red dot next to it in the image below when your in RenX.

Blazer: I simply meant that if I was posting a tutorial I would first make a new topic because I wouldn't have noticed a new tutorial in thats sticky until I bothered to check. I wasn't saying don't post them in there too just that people are more aware of a new post than something added to a sticky.
