EXdeath7GeTSm0keDEXdeath7Use Trillian. Trillian is much better and you only need one client running for multiple messengers.

It saves memory and disk space.

had it for a long time now..

its great for just jumpin online on all your messangers..

but if u want to do anything good like send files/web cam..

they have to have trillain as well.. cause trillian is so funkin buggy that nothin works on it lol Trillian works fine when sending files and that is all I need. There is nothing else needed in a messenger.

htf.. i never get it to work.. i just checked and i have to most updated version..

it always ran buggy for me.. i dunno maybe its the skins..

what skin u use?

and u send files to ppl on aim/msn?

i overall prefer msn cause its more pro lookin..

u can use your own pix for the buddy pic u can customize the backround of each window with your own pic web cam kicks ass.. never really used the mic tho u can invite ppl into one conversion.. and not make a chat room the "your info" page is much better and i can make the windows transperant.. "the nvidia options"

it didnt work with aim/yahoo last time i checked put it this way tho.. i do use trillian INSTEAD of aim when i need to be on aim.. aim is a joke imo.. they dropped the ball long time ago
