**UPDATED

With our recent events that have happened with Dead6, this only aggravates our members second thinking Aircraftkiller's loyalty to anyone but himself. I can not go against the wishes of my team-mates and try to keep this relationship any longer.

It is with regret that even though APB was a project I led at one point, and strived to help keep alive, I must remove our affiliation with them due to recent events of there leading member.
