Ok I run a 56k modem on Windows me, yes I know they both suck but it's all I'll have for now and probably for a while. Anyways after 3 days of straight downloading I finally finished downloading The full version of Renalert. The problem is that the install guide says that after you run it it should start an install thing. However, when I run the file(it was saved as "418") the "Open with what program?" thing appears. So now I'm wondering how do I install this. Any help will be appreciated. And I really don't feel like re-downloading it again.
