

---

Subject: New Forum?

Posted by flyingfox on Wed, 15 Dec 2004 17:18:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

If there were ever an "off topic" or "personal issues" forum on the old official boards, it would be pretty out of place..I'd say..

let's venture to guess that, indeed, a lot of us know each other through the game and forum. I'd also guess that a lot of the people voting on this poll have thought "hey, a new forum, good idea, what's the problem?" and went for yes. But it's easy to forget that this forum was handed over to be an official forum for a retail game, not "this is the forum for my local game server, let's get to know each other".

I think adding a forum for off topics or personal issues takes away from it's purpose (talk about renegade, get help with renegade, show off renegade mods, discuss bigfixes, etc) and makes it personal/general purpose, which is pretty discouraging to someone who only wants to be part of an official community.

---