Well I've just gone and nicked a scout trooper plastic model off my cousin and I've compared it to the one in your picture. Like I said the head it too big. Not only that but the armour on the arms should be in three bits; sholder, upper arm and forearm, not over the elbow. There shouldn't be any armour on his arse. The knee and shin pads should be separate with a strap around the back of the knee. Just thought you'd want to know.
