SuperFlyingEngil don't know why people live in a place like this; it seems like every five years or so huge tsunamis come in and wipe out a ton of people.

I'm sure somehow, it must be Bush's fault, right?

Honestly... are you really this completely uninformed? or is it truly retardation? On the very first day the tsunami hit, it was stated on just about every news outlet that this was a "rare occurrence" in this part of the world.. Here's a quote from Reuters for you:

Quote:The last time a tsunami was detected along the Indian coast was in the 1940s. When you have such a rare phenomenon, how do you design a prediction warning system?" said Satish R. Shetye, director of India's National Institute of Oceanography in Goa

Go actually watch the news once in a while before you venture in to this forum, it'll help you to not look so entirely stupid, I promise.
