AircraftkillerYou don't need a command, if you have a 56 KPBS modem you can still get a decent ping without using the console. Idiot.

CS:S is not realistic.

Renegade sucks. The only reason you hit dead on in that game is because you didn't need very much skill to kill anyone in it. There is no recoil and there is little weapon inaccuracy.

The bullets hit if you know how to fire the weapon you're using. Since you don't, you whine, because you suck.

The command is a default, Dumbass...which happenes to help 56 KBPS modem users.

Im not here to discuss my skill (so what if im not good yet) or compare the 2 games, Im just letting a few people know they can adjust there settings to get the most out of there connection....since the default try to cover 56K users aswell.

I let a few people know a possible fix/help and you get on my ass about "dont whine cuz you sux"

So why dont you just relax.
