My own work.

A pretty sweet ride, you might say...

But seriously, I'm going to start taking driving lessons next month. Then I get a partial permit, and my parents are probably going to get a big 'ole Cadillac, since me and my dad both think they're awesome. Then I'll get a shiny black paint job, chrome all the parts, and call it a day.

I wonder if there are still any 1955 Bel-Airs around...
