
Subject: As if we could pretend this wouldn't come around...

Posted by Hydra on Mon, 03 Jan 2005 06:16:58 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In response to all issues regarding the UN: fuck the UN.

The United States should withdraw all UN funding immediately and officially give it the finger. The United States cannot be a part of an organization that is composed of anti-American countries doing everything they can to hurt the United States. Why, you ask? Because they all want power. Take not only the War on Terror but also the Kyoto Treaty for example. I'm sure you've all heard the great international outcry against the United States for refusing to sign the Kyoto Treaty. The document's effects on the economy of the United States would have been catastrophically adverse, and those were the very reasons cited for our refusal, yet UN diplomats still castigated the United States for refusing to sign the incredibly flawed document.

"Oh no! Can't you see you're killing the environment by not signing this document? Can't you see you'll kill your planet if you refuse to sign? You're going to single-handedly bring about global warming if you don't sign this document!!!"

The Oil-for-Food scandal is another perfect example. The United States is actually being criticized by other countries in the UN for pursuing this $20 billion scandal. No one else really seems to care; the media certainly doesn't, at least.

The United Nations receives the majority of its funding from the United States. It's time to stop letting them bite the hand that feeds them.

SuperFlyingLiberalToolHow do you know Saddam killed millions of Iraqis?

No, he really wasn't involved in 9/11. It's funny though how about 80% or something of Bush supporters believe that. You people need to read.

You really need to stop posting in this subforum for all our sakes.

I honestly think my I.Q. drops a point each time I read anything you write in relation to politics.
