icedog90Majiin VegetaAMD Athlon XP 2500+ (Barton), 1.83 GHz 1024MB DDR RAM
x800 Pro 256MB
80GB HDD

plan to upgrade my CPU sometime but the stores online i checked only have AMD CPU's that will give me a 200MHz boost :/

MHZ isn't generally the only thing that shows how good a CPU is. The Athlon 64's are around 2.4ghz but they blow away a lot of CPUs out there.

after i wrote this post i was looking at some +3200 64 CPU's about £150 i think it was will i need to get a special mobo to use this CPU and what programs would not work with it would hate to pay £150 quid get great performance and find out none of my lovely games wont work
