ghostSWTI keep thinking maybe i sould make and release a bunch of totaly undetactable cheats to force all servers to run renguard if they don't want hard to detect cheaters in there servers... But I guess there is a downside to making/releasing this type of cheat, i don't know what it is but i'm sure there are some.

The downside is you get no credit. If you did get credit, you can say bye bye you renegade.

I've yet to watch the video yet due to me being on 56k, but I'm sure your talking about final ren if its most common.

Downloaded cheats are for the true n00bs of cheating, easly spotted and disposed of if you know about it, why the video makes a good point.
Something else for educational purposes:

The video on the bottom was made by me, an 'extreem' cheat, which takes the name of 'most obvious' away from final ren. Which brings up a point the video does not represent.

Home made cheats are about the worst thing a mod has to deal with, while some are just as obvious as final ren, or that one, some you would never find out unless you took an ingame test. The best you can do is just rgforce any suspected cheater, cheating or not. If they are cheating then you just owned a n00b. If their not then you just got rengaurd another user. With rengaurd, the video is really only good for non rengaurd servers.
