Keep this up and the roving Warsies will drop in and start flame war. Episode 1 is fine, when taken for what it is, the script is passable and the acting is okay(it had Liam Neeson in it for pete's sake, he saved the damn thing)

Episode 2 is actually quite nice in the non-Anakin sequences. It's just when Darth Whiner shows up that it tanks and tanks hard. I cannot see that pathetic cretin(cret-in) become "You're Badass Master of Ceremonies to the fall of the 10,000+ year old Republic and the death of every last stinking Jedi in the place except for Yoda(cause we finally get to see why everyone in the Jedi call him master) and Obi Wan(for some unknown reason, perhaps a bit of weakness on Vader's part).
