Canadians depend on the US to defend them, thats the only reason you havn't been attacked and harvisted for your natrual resourses is because you have us to the south. Be thankful
What planet are you living on?

They have a military. You forget the British influence in Canada, and that the Royal Marines are trained there.

Yeah, don't make us call the British, Austrailians, and every third world country that depends on us on you

The brits are real allies unlike france, they wouldn't attack us, same goes for Austrailians. But as long as money is involved i woudln't put it past the french to hit us.

Naw, the British think of Canada as the older, better brother of the two
