Englandj_ball430The site is shit, and his talent is not that much improved. I agree that I find a couple decent, but the other ones are just downright laughable. If he wants to start up a graphics site/forum he needs to learn and actually make it so that people are interested in seeing his work. I can tell you right now I'm not in the least bit intrigued. He needs to show me something that makes me want to see more. I have yet to see it, and I feel that I won't see one for a while. Until then, I'm content with running my graphics community.

I'm not trying to portray a holier-than-thou attitude. I wasn't good at the beginning, but I didn't go off and say that my work was anything better than newbish. If he wants to show off his improving work, that's one thing, but trying to start a graphics community on his little skills is stupid and bound to get him laughed at.

Your site is not even impressive, it takes ages to load. And your 'signatures' or whatever you do, look plain and boring, congratulations, you can cut and paste pictures and text!

Jesus, get a clue,

Congrats, you sir are an idiot.

apocmedia.com does not take long at all to load enless your ISP is the biggest peice of crap ever. Digitaldepiction.net does not either, and Apoc's sigs for the most part (ecpessially mine) are not cut and paste and text, you stupid n00b.

Go back to the hole you've been hiding in for the past few months you troll.
